

- > Water, & paper cups, maybe a vivid to write children's names on cups – more to make them think there's some order – give this job to the child who's panicking
- > Snack bars or even lollies (something that will keep but give the kids a sugar hit)
- > Wind-up torch (choose one with a radio), if you can't get a wind-up, make sure you check the batteries once a term
- > Both children and staff emergency contact details, (check at least once a term)
- > Blankets, (as many as possible) silver heat blankets are good
- > 2 x big tarps (in case it's raining)
- > Gazebo (it gives the pretence of your headquarters)
- > Some basic sports/art equipment/board games/cards
- > First aid kit
- > Notebook and pen, blue tack in case you leave and need to leave a message on the door – or use vivid to write on the window where you have gone
- > Wet wipes
- > Paper face masks
- > Heavy duty black plastic bags
- > Bucket
- > Toilet paper

Pop all the above into a wheelie bin, that can be kept just outside the door when your programme is operating.
